

Tasting the Macallan whisky
at Sundbyholms Slott
February 3, 2024

I was born and raised in Greece, where my journey into the world of hospitality began. With 15 years of experience in this dynamic field, I've honed my skills and developed a deep appreciation for the art of crafting exceptional guest experiences. However, my true passion lies in the world of craftsmanship and whisky. Introduced to the rich heritage of Scotch whisky through my career in hospitality, I became captivated by the intricate process of its creation.

As the Macallan Brand Specialist, I am provided with the extraordinary opportunity to delve even deeper into the realm of whisky, to continuously expand my knowledge, and to share this passion with others. I find immense joy in not only learning but also inspiring others with the fascinating world of The Macallan. Whisky represents more than just a beverage; it embodies a set of values—integrity, luxury, and craftsmanship. It is a symbol of tradition and innovation coexisting harmoniously.

Every day, I have the privilege of engaging in conversations that transcend the ordinary, exploring the finer aspects of daily lifestyle through the lens of whisky. It's a journey filled with inspiration, discovery, and an unwavering commitment to the heritage that underpins the art of whisky making.
